

Uncertainty Surrounding Legal Status of Foreign Employees

The International Law Office (ILO) has published an update on “Uncertainty Surrounding Legal Status of Foreign Employees”, an article written by our Lia Alizia and Hendrik Pasaribu, published on 17 August 2018. The article covers the restrictions on employing foreign workers, and the varying views of mediators and the Industrial Relations Court on their legal status based on the manpower laws applicable.

Download a copy of the article or visit the ILO website to view it online.